A guide to local support

For children and young people with SEND in Nottinghamshire

It is an interactive PDF that maps the support available in Nottinghamshire. You can click on any underlined text to view website links and learn more. NottsHelpYourself is our Local Offer detailing all the services available for children and young people with SEND in Nottinghamshire.

Information about the Map →

This map shows you how the services and processes link together in our local area. Their website links then provide details on what the services offer and how you can refer.

Information about the Map →

Local services follow a step-by-step approach to assessment of SEND called the graduated response. Education, health and care professionals can help meet a child or young person's needs in their particular area. School SENCOs and GPs often help parents and carers to make referrals to these specialist services when needed. However, in line with the SEND code of practice they will also work together to get the right multi-agency support in place for children and their families.
